

INTRODUCING

ComPENNsation

A WHOLE NEW WAY TO HELP CLIENTS PREVENT AND MANAGE THEIR WORKERS COMPENSATION CLAIMS

We all know that the most cost-effective way to keep workers compensation premiums low is to prevent workplace accidents in the first place. But to do so, employers need to understand how to provide a safe and healthful workplace for their employees and how to implement systems that deliver the best possible care and speedy return to work should those employees suffer injury on the job.

With that in mind, Penn Millers Insurance is pleased to announce that it has partnered with Lynch, Ryan & Associates, Inc. a management consulting firm specializing in workers' compensation cost controls to create a unique workers compensation web portal for our policyholders.

ComPENNsation will provide employers access to a compelling education portal that will give them the tools and training they need to reduce and control their workers' compensation losses to the absolute minimum while taking the best care of their injured workers. The online Training Center includes training modules, videos, quizzes, and interactive content, along with helpful tools, forms, and employee communication materials.

This exciting new benefit for our policyholders is part of Penn Millers commitment to providing exceptional customer service and first-rate insurance products.

ComPENNsation

Now through Penn Millers' ComPENNsation web portal, employers have a valuable resource that will provide them with the tools and training they need to reduce and control their workers' compensation losses to the absolute minimum while providing the best care possible to their injured workers.

What is a Web Portal?

A web portal is a customized site that creates a single point of access to a collection of information. Our ComPENNsation portal offers employers an easy and structured approach to navigating workers compensation information by subject (category) and sub-category. Each insured employer will have access to their own password protected unique site. Once familiar with the portal, users will be able to easily locate (and relocate) the information and resources they need.

What types of resources does ComPENNsation offer?

Instructional materials in text and multi-media formats allows users to track their progress on course completion on such subjects as:

- Workers Comp Basics
- Preventing Workplace Injuries
- Critical Workers Comp Program Elements
- What to do When a Worker is Injured
- Workers Comp Frequently Asked Questions

Additionally, the site includes an extensive inventory of helpful PDF downloads, a video safety library, links to industry news, health and safety resources and access to up-to-the-minute information from Lynch Ryan's award winning Workers' Compensation blog.

PROVIDE POLICYHOLDERS WITH THE TOOLS AND INFORMATION THEY NEED TO ENCOURAGE WORKPLACE RISK MANAGEMENT AND MAINTAIN A FUNCTIONAL RETURN TO WORK PROGRAM.

How was ComPENNsation created?

ComPENNsation is a collaboration between Penn Millers' staff of experienced Loss Control and Safety experts and the consulting firm of Lynch, Ryan & Associates, Inc.

Lynch, Ryan & Associates, Inc. specializes in workers' compensation cost controls. The firm helps employers, insurers, third party administrators, brokers, industry associations and governmental bodies to build and implement highly effective workers' compensation programs that reduce costs to an absolute minimum while providing high-quality care for injured workers.

Insurance companies that have implemented Lynch Ryan's cost control systems and tools have realized significant gains in underwriting profit.
